DIRECTOR PHILIP SANSOM

Philip Sansom is an award-winning film maker & photographer. His first short film 'The Black Hole' won the inaugural Virgin Media Awards in 2008 which also saw him nominated for 8 Music Video Awards including 'Best Director'.

He established PHIX in 2012, catering for the emerging market of digital content. A natural storyteller with an ability to handle complex narratives and multiple elements of any production, his skillset as a self-shooting director, has seen him in demand for a diverse range of work from live directing fashion shows, through to creating online series and photographic print ads.

In documentaries his first film was commissioned by SKY Arts and nominated for 'Best UK Feature' at Raindance and Best Director at Copenhagen Festival in 2019. TOPWOA his second feature doc won 'Best Music Documentary' at Raindance 2020 and Best Feature Documentary at Berlin IFF 2021.

PHIX CONTENT

PHIX has become synonymous with a beautifully cinematic narrative style that has attracted commissions from major luxury brands and agencies alike looking to elevate their content beyond their budget.

Experienced at every level of production across a multitude of genres and styles, PHIX apply the same signature cinematic approach to everything we do. Whether creating an art directed commercial, a CGI embellished short film, a car campaign or a runway fashion show broadcast, PHIX has the hallmark of quality and beauty.

A woman with long dark hair, wearing a bright orange dress, is smiling and looking towards the camera. She is standing in a lush garden with green trees and bushes. In the foreground, there are large professional cameras on tripods, and the hands of crew members are visible, one holding a camera handle. The scene is brightly lit, suggesting an outdoor film set.
